

SCUBA INSTRUCTOR — Tom Urban, a Professional Association of Diving Instructors member, will teach a 32-hour course program for basic scuba certification for the Pickaway County Family YMCA. The course, which will begin July 10, includes 14 hours of classroom work and 18 hours of water time at the Circleville Swim Club. An open orientation meeting to explain the sport of scuba diving and discuss aspects of the teaching program will be held 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 7, at the YMCA. Urban, who completed a 60-hour YMCA National Certification course at Blue Ash YMCA in Cincinnati, has been diving for 15 years and has logged in excess of 100 hours diving time. He is also a member of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Diving Recovery Team. Bob Schultz will be his assistant. Urban, manufacturing superintendent at RCA, and his wife Kathy, a teacher at the S. Court Elementary School, live at Route 5, Circleville.

Martian Landing Sites Studied

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Photos of the Martian site chosen for Viking 1's July 4 landing streamed in from space to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, where scientists will study them closely to make sure the area is safe for the rocket's landing. The 58 photos were taken in about six minutes Tuesday by Viking's twin cameras from its newly established orbit. They came to earth late Tuesday and early today via radio transmission.

"We've made a lot of estimates (of the nature of the surface) from what little evidence we have, and the proof of the pudding is starting to come in today," said Dr. Harold Masursky. He is a member of the Viking orbiter photography team and is a U.S. Geological Survey scientist.

The landing site is called Chryse. It's a basin area at the mouth of a huge valley where water may have flowed at one time.

Pieced together in a photo mosaic, the pictures will be studied by geologists to determine what the surface is made of and whether boulders, potholes or soft sand pose any hazards for the three-legged Viking lander, which will separate from the mother ship.

For the rest of June, the spacecraft will circle the planet — and pass the landing area — once a day. Mars is about half the size of earth but its day, called a "sol" by scientists, is slightly longer than earth's: 24.6 hours.

Also on Tuesday, Viking studied infrared radiation emitted and reflected from the landing site. Such measurements tell geologists about the thermal properties of the surface and give clues to the composition of the rocks and soil.

Another instrument examined the thin atmosphere of Mars for traces of water vapor. There have been encouraging signs that such vapor — water in its gaseous form — may be more abundant than had been calculated from earlier observations. Such findings could slightly improve the chances of finding life on Mars.

Masursky said liquid water is not believed to exist on Mars because of the planet's low atmospheric pressure. But near Chryse and many other places on the planet are features that have the unmistakable look of dry channels that were carved by flowing water.

If water was once abundant on Mars, he said, the atmosphere must once have been heavier — providing enough pressure to keep water in its liquid form.

"Something must have been different," he said, "and we'd like to find out what it was."

Kissinger Meets To Avert Racial War

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and South African Prime Minister John Vorster begin talks today that Kissinger says he hopes will help avert a racial war in southern Africa.

Kissinger will try to enlist Vorster's help in steering the white-minority government of Rhodesia into negotiations to transfer control to the country's 6.1 million blacks within two years.

Although the two-day meeting in the forests of Bavaria was originally planned to advance the Ford administration's new campaign against the white regime in Rhodesia, the black uprising in South Africa in the past week has focused public interest much more on what Kissinger says to Vorster about his rejection of majority rule in his own country.

At a news conference Tuesday in Paris, Kissinger denied that the meeting was an expression of U.S. sympathy toward South Africa's white minority.

He said he was seeing Vorster at the unanimous suggestion of 40 black African countries.

"It is in this spirit and not in any sense of an endorsement of anything that is going on in South Africa — quite the contrary — that I am meeting the South African prime minister," Kissinger declared.

He criticized Vorster's government for its "violent" response to the black rioting in which at least 140 persons were killed and more than 1,100 injured.

He also reiterated the Ford administration's distaste for apartheid, the South African government policy of racial separation and black repression.

The U.S. government "is attempting to move matters to a solution through negotiations rather than through violence," Kissinger said, "and it will attempt to do what it can to avoid outside intervention and to permit a solution in which African problems are solved by African nations."

Dr. Saul Krugman of New York University said Tuesday that dose and composition standards for the adult vaccines should be ready within two weeks so manufacturers can go into full production.

"We know now that in the age group of 25 or so and above it will be possible to recommend a dose that can be well tolerated," said Krugman, member of a Center for Disease Control advisory committee.

Christian Attacks End Lebanon Peace

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Palestinians and their leftist Lebanese Moslem allies reported widespread Christian attacks in Beirut through the night and today. They claimed their forces repulsed the attacks and inflicted heavy losses.

Telephone and telex communications between the Lebanese capital and foreign countries were cut again. But the Moslem-controlled Beirut Radio reported fierce fighting at Palestinian refugee camps on the northeast side of Beirut, around Moslem enclaves in the Christian sector of Beirut, in suburbs on the south side of the city and between the Moslem and Christian sectors.

Christian broadcasts accused the Palestinians of "provocative attacks" on unarmed civilians and said "our forces were forced to counter the aggression."

The Christians' Radio Amchit said the fighting caused an electricity blackout. Apparently this closed down telephone and telex service.

Beirut Radio claimed early today that 94 Christians had been killed or wounded by the artillery and mortars of the Palestinians and their allies. Security officials in Beirut reported more than 80 persons killed Tuesday, but this did not include casualties Tuesday night.

Libyan Premier Abdel Salem Jalloud, who arranged a truce three days ago between the Syrian forces that invaded Lebanon on June 1 and the Palestinian-Moslem Lebanese alliance, met with the leftists in an attempt to keep the fighting from spreading.

The cease-fire was reported holding along the Syrian invaders' fronts. Syrian and Libyan troops of the new pan-Arab peace force took over the Beirut airport from the pro-Syrian Saiga Palestinian guerrillas and members of the Syrian invasion force who had kept it closed for more than two weeks.

For the most part, this meant one set of Syrian troops replaced another, since the Libyans were greatly outnumbered. But the trucks and equipment of the new Syrian troops were marked Arab Security Force.

Beirut Radio said the airport would reopen today for the start of an airlift of 5,000 peacekeeping troops from Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Libya, Algeria and Syria. The 1,000-man Libyan-Syrian vanguard of the force arrived by road from Damascus Monday and in addition to the airport took up positions on the south side of Beirut and along the highway toward Sidon, 25 miles to the south.

Meanwhile, Yasir Arafat, the head of the Palestine Liberation Organization, fired one of his chief aides in what could be the start of a purge of Syrian influence. Beirut Radio said Arafat dismissed Syrian-trained Brig. Musbah Budeiry as chief of staff of the Palestine Liberation Army. The announcement said Arafat would take command of the PLA and Budeiry "would be returned to the Syrian army."

President Ford announced that Deputy Asst. Secretary of State Talcott Seelye would take charge of the U.S. Embassy in Lebanon temporarily. U.S. Ambassador Francis E. Meloy Jr. was kidnaped and murdered last week.

OEPA Considers Landfill Site, Issues Two Industrial Permits

By TOM SPRING
Herald Staff Writer

Four of five sites in Pickaway County were rejected by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency as possible landfill sites, the OEPA announced today. The other one is still under investigation to determine acceptability.

Three sites are being considered for special industrial solid waste disposal, and renewals of two industrial permits for waste water discharge.

Complaints were received about the existing landfill, B&E Incorporated. The landfill was inspected and found to be in poor shape according to George A. Elmaraghy, engineer in the Division of Industrial Wastewater in the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

A hearing was then scheduled to issue orders to the firm to comply with regulations for solid waste disposal. The hearing has been scheduled for Aug. 1.

An inspection will take place beforehand. Elmaraghy said, "If improvements are made with faithful intent to comply with the regulations by Aug. 1, I will recommend dismissal of the hearing."

"We are now trying to determine if any pollution is entering the ground water at the old landfill," he said.

In any case, Elmaraghy said, the present landfill can only operate for two or three more years due to land capacity to hold accumulated wastes. A new site adjacent to the old landfill was planned by B&E Inc. but it was disallowed because it would have meant the discharge of solid waste into the canal, Elmaraghy said.

The main requirements for a landfill deal with geology and geography. The

Swine Flu Vaccine Ready For Adults

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enough swine flu vaccine will be ready this summer to begin inoculating millions of adults shortly after Labor Day, U.S. health officials say. But vaccination of younger Americans will likely be delayed pending further studies of side effects.

Dr. Saul Krugman of New York University said Tuesday that dose and composition standards for the adult vaccines should be ready within two weeks so manufacturers can go into full production.

"We know now that in the age group of 25 or so and above it will be possible to recommend a dose that can be well tolerated," said Krugman, member of a Center for Disease Control advisory committee.

Federal health advisory committees recommended Tuesday that the $135-million vaccination program move ahead to immunize the nation's adults as soon as possible, but they advised delaying shots for children and young people until more studies are made.

Dr. David J. Sencer, director of the U.S. Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, said vaccination of the young should begin by late fall or early winter following studies of what type of vaccine at what doses should be used.

The bodies recommending a go-ahead with the adult part of the program were the Advisory Committee on Influenza Protection to the CDC, and the Panel on Viral and Rickettsial Diseases of the Food and NATIONAL REGISTRY — Three Harrison Twp. firemen, Lt. Paul Welsh Jr., Lt. Donald Rathburn, and Fireman Wayne Rogers, have been accepted into the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians, according to Chief R.E. Featheringham. The three men received registry certificates and shoulder patches for successfully completing a three-hour written and practical examination of EMT skills at University Hospital, Columbus, May 21. The registry must be renewed every two years, according to Chief Featheringham, through continued training. The Ashville-based department now has five registered EMTers.

Drug Administration's Bureau of Biologics.

Both committees' recommendations will go to Dr. Theodore Cooper, assistant secretary for health of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Cooper can order implementation of the vaccination program after it is set up.

In their deliberations, the committees considered results released Monday of the first human trials of swine flu vaccines.

Those studies with more than 5,000 persons concluded that the vaccines appeared safe and effective in adults. However, they showed side effects in children were higher than expected with the most effective vaccines.

While these side effects — including mild fever, general malaise and headache — were no more severe than with other flu vaccines and showed in only a small percentage of children, researchers said a mass-immunization program would leave too many youngsters affected.

Further tests with children will be completed in August, the committees said, and then a program for younger Americans can be put together.

An A-strain of influenza virus — dubbed swine flu — surfaced at Ft. Dix, N.J., last winter and scientists say it could reoccur in the general population in future flu seasons. This flu is similar to one that in 1918 killed 20 millions persons throughout the world.

land must be an impermeable layer, preferably 30 feet of clay, to prevent seepage. The landfill must be located at least 1,000 feet from any well or similar water source to prevent contamination of drinking water, according to Elmaraghy.

The alternative site presently being considered is farther away from the Scioto River than the present site.

"For every company we issue some kind of a National Pollution Discharge Elimination System permit to discharge industrial waste water," Elmaraghy said.

"Last week we reached an agreement with DuPont on a renewal of a permit that expires in October, 1976. The plant, under the new permit, will decrease its discharge rate from 5 million gallons of waste water per day to three million gallons per day."

Included in the permit are provisions for improvement of the quality of wastewater discharge by July 1, 1977. DuPont has already submitted plans to achieve that goal and the Ohio EPA has approved them, Elmaraghy said. These plans will allow the company to recycle a lot of their waste water through a cooling tower to be built on the site.

A permit for Pittsburgh Plate Glass will expire in December. An agreement has been reached with the company and a renewal permit issued which will allow the company to continue current waste water

Death Lines 70 Miles Of Shoreline

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"I noticed little sand crabs along the beach and they're all dead," said a woman who went to Jones Beach to see the pollution that has closed 70 miles of Long Island shoreline.

Raw garbage, tar and grease, refuse and fecal matter have been fouling the beaches along Long Island's south shore for more than a week. The situation has put the beaches offlimits to thousands of swimmers in the popular summer recreation area and has begun taking its toll of ocean life. Millions of tiny shrimp and crabs have floated ashore.

Fire Island, a 30-mile stretch of beaches in Suffolk County, was newly declared safe for swimming on Tuesday, but the beaches remained closed. And officials in neighboring Nassau County ordered all the county's south shore beaches closed.

In addition, Suffolk County health officials advised the county to place 20 more miles of beaches toward the outer tip of Long Island out of bounds to swimmers.

Surfacing with all the debris were charges Tuesday that New York City and some New Jersey communities were responsible for the pollution and that the federal Environmental Protection Agency was not responding aggressively.

"The major source is New York City," Supervisor Al D'Amato of Hempstead, on Long Island, said. He said New York City and the northeastern New Jersey communities were the only places that discharge untreated sewage into the water.

IS THERE A FORD IN OUR FUTURE?

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market lapsed into a broad decline today amid disappointment at the Dow Jones industrial average's inability to hold above the 1,000 level Tuesday.

The Dow average of 30 blue chips fell about 4 points in the early going, and losers took a 2-1 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market's decline marked the seventh time this year it has retreated from just above the 1,000 point in the Dow.

Analysts said the impulse to sell appeared to be aggravated by the government's report Tuesday morning that its consumer price index rose in May at its sharpest rate in six months.

Today's early prices included IU International, down 1/4 at 10 1/2; Safeway Stores, off 1/4 at 41; and Dart Industries, unchanged at 35 1/4.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average dropped 9.82 to 997.63, ending a three-day stay above the 1,000 mark.

Losers outpaced gainers by about an 8-5 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index was down .39 at 55.14.

Big Board volume was a moderately active 21.15 million shares.

The American Stock Exchange market value index lost .35 to 104.70.

Jury Finds Men Guilty Of Thefts

A jury of 12 seated Monday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court to hear 34 cases of grand theft and breaking and entering against two Akron men returned to the courtroom this morning with guilty verdicts on all charges.

The jury had deliberated only two hours and 20 minutes before reaching the guilty verdicts against Stephen Smith and Ricky Lee Hicks. Both the prosecution and the defense rested their cases at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday and Judge William Ammer charged the jury.

Judge Ammer, after receiving the jury's verdict, proceeded to sentence the two men. On the first five cases against each one, he sentenced them to terms of 2-5 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary and ordered these sentences to run consecutively with sentences against each one of them in Summit County.

On the other 12 cases against each man, the court ordered the 2-5-year sentences to run concurrently.

Al Sedlak represented Hicks during the proceedings and Smith was represented by Thomas Tootle. County Prosecutor Richard Gerhardt presented the case against the two for the state of Ohio. Hicks and Smith, along with a third man, Robert Hart, were arrested by city police on April 20 after a rash of thefts of citizen band radios and other similar equipment.

The defense counsels rested their cases just before the afternoon recess. The prosecution presented only one rebuttal witness, Ptl. James Ford of the Circleville Police Department. Ford testified that he had smelled no alcoholic odor on either of the two defendants at the time of their arrests.

In his closing arguments, Gerhardt reiterated to the jury that the value of each of the stolen articles had been established at more than $150, constituting grand theft by law. He also explained to the jury that much of the evidence had been presented by way of depositions given by the owners of the stolen goods and reminded the jurors that the autos from which these items were stolen had been parked on the owners' property except for one instance and that the defendants had entered upon such property without the owners' consent, thus constituting the charges of breaking and entering.

Tootle, in his closing articles, stated that although the prosecution had promised eye witnesses during its opening statements, none of the stolen articles had been taken in the areas where these witnesses had been.

He argued that although the items were stolen, there were no fingerprints linking the defendants with the goods.

Sedlak, in his closing statements, said that he wanted the jurors to consider the two cases separately and said his defendant, Hicks, could not be linked to a blue vehicle which had been mentioned in the trial. He claimed that the evidence presented by the prosecution was circumstantial. Part of Hicks' defense was that he was allegedly asleep during the thefts.

The jury included Connie P. Humble, Edna Mae Clark, Wayne P. Bisker, Richard F. Billman, Owen Clay Jarrell, Edwin E. Sollars, Roy G. Garrett, Paul E. Roan, Stanley L. Ruoff, Frank R. Lands II, Maxwell D. White and Scarlett LaVerne Carter. Elmer C. Wheeler was alternate juror. Billman was named by the other jurors as foreman.

Arraignments Held On 5 Indictments

Three men indicted Friday by the April Grand Jury appeared this morning for arraignment in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court and pleaded not guilty to the offenses against them. Two of the others indicted Friday appeared this morning and entered guilty pleas.

Jeffrey Speakman, Route 2, Ashville, pleaded not guilty to attempted felonious assault. Judge William Ammer ordered Speakman to be sent to the Columbus State Hospital for a 30-day examination.

Also pleading not guilty were John Wiseman, Columbus, charged with aggravated burglary and petit theft and Franklin Hedges, Route 1, Clarksburg, charged with grand theft.

The court accepted guilty pleas from Danny Greathouse, Columbus, on charges of aggravated burglary and grand theft and ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared by the adult parole authority. A pre-sentence report was also ordered for William Bassett, Adrian, W. Va., who pleaded guilty to possession of hallucinogens for sale.

Also appearing during the mid-week session of court was Paul Turner who applied for early release from a prison sentence under the provisions of the shock probation statute.

Turner was sentenced in January to a term at the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield. After being convicted of aggravated burglary. Judge Ammer ordered his release from that sentence, placing him on probation for three years.

Alcoholism Report Said 'To Cruel'

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A Michigan authority on the treatment of alcoholism terms cruel a study by the Rand Corp. which found that some alcoholics can return to "normal drinking."

"It is cruel to bring out a report that is so much at variance with wide experience," said Dr. Richard C. Bates of Lansing, an internist who has treated alcoholism and other addictions for 18 years.

Bates, chairman of the Michigan state medical society's committee on alcoholism and drug addiction, spoke at the Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies, hosted by Northwestern University.

Sponsors of the annual institute are universities and departments of public health in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Bates said in a telephone interview Tuesday that there is no scientific way to determine whether an alcoholic can drink safely, and that the recent Rand study followed alcoholics for only 18 months.

"It suggests to alcoholics that they have been sold a bill of goods" by those who have been treating them, he said.

He said also that it "frightens all of us" in the field of alcoholism treatment because it leads alcoholics to believe that they can drink socially.

At best, he said, liquor is 3 to 5 per cent able to handle liquor on this level without reverting to excessive drinking. It is like cigarette smoking, Bates said, in that it is extremely difficult for a person who smokes a pack a day to smoke only three.

Wealthy To Pay Despite Loopholes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to require wealthy Americans to pay some income tax no matter how many tax loopholes they use is nearing approval in the Senate.

The plan, approved earlier by the Senate Finance Committee, would cost the wealthy $1 billion a year. A bloc of liberal senators is seeking to raise that figure by $200 million and apply the tougher provisions to corporations as well as individuals.

Strengthening this "minimum tax" is a key element of the big tax bill being debated by the Senate.

The minimum tax was enacted in 1969 in an effort to assure that persons using such shelters would pay some income tax. Despite this, it was disclosed earlier this year that 244 Americans earning more than $200,000 paid no income tax in 1974 because of large deductions.

Making the minimum tax even tougher than the committee wants is the most important part of a package of tax amendments offered by the liberals. They were beaten Tuesday in most efforts to eliminate tax shelters for high-income investors.

On a 53-40 vote, the Senate indicated it prefers the milder tax-shelter crack-down approved by the Finance Committee, which would raise investors' taxes by $165 million in 1977, a figure that would drop gradually to $125 million by 1981.

The plan advocated by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and other liberals would have meant a $200-million increase in taxes in 1977 and gradual increases over the next five years.

Defense Rests In Police Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — The defense has rested in the trial of former Cincinnati Police Chief Carl Goodin and two other officers and the case could go to the jury before the week is out.

Closing arguments are expected to be completed by Thursday.

Goodin, Lt. Richard Beyer, and Police Officer James Simon are charged with perjury and tampering with evidence in connection with a grand jury investigation of alleged police wrongdoing.

Eight character witnesses testified Tuesday in Goodin's behalf. Goodin took the stand on Monday as the first defense witness.

Beyer's attorney called 14 character witnesses.

Simon's attorney rested his case without calling a single witness.

The prosecution in the case contends that money paid to Goodin by two radio traffic officers went for the former chief's personal use. Goodin has testified that he passed the money to Beyer for an informant's fund connected with undercover work by Simon.

Benjamin Harrison Center Established

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University has announced the establishment of a Benjamin Harrison Center, in honor of the 23rd President and an 1852 Miami graduate.

"The center will be for the collection and display of documentary and other materials bearing on the life, times and contemporaries of President Harrison," University President Dr. Phillip Shriver said.

As a nucleus for the Harrison collection, Miami has some original Harrison papers from various sources, plus 151 reels of microfilm representing the entire Library of Congress holdings of Harrison papers.

Miami Archivist Gordon Wilson said he had already obtained promises of cooperation from other sources who will provide microfilm or copies of holdings in other collections.

Searchers Find Tot In House

When five-year-old Macy Whaley combined a hiding game with some nap time Tuesday, it caused quite an uproar in his east side neighborhood.

Mrs. Vickie Kennedy, Macy's mother, couldn't locate the youngster shortly after she allowed him to play in their back yard about 10:30 a.m.

Macy's grandparents, Pearl and Elsie Whaley, 407 Stella Ave., joined in the search, which increased to the point of the near-summoning of the Columbus Police Department helicopter moments before he was found.

A "gratified" Mrs. Whaley, who found the youngster in the basement of his house, said, "Circleville people are really great to help."

Macy apparently made a quiet retreat to the basement, where he fell asleep while hiding under a table. And, even though repeated searches were made of the basement, he did not wake up until he heard Mrs. Whaley about 1:30 p.m.

Circleville Police Sgt. Jim Francis coordinated the search effort.

Sheriff's Deputies, members of the Ohio State Highway Patrol, the Pickaway County Rapid Patrol, Pickaway County REACT, members of the Busy Bee Radio Club, local utility workers, and local cab drivers all joined in the search, which included a house-to-house check of dwellings in the area.

Lazy Day Bait Store Seeks Liquor Permit

Frances M. Duffey, owner of the Lazy Day Bait and Tackle store, Route 56, Monroe Twp., has filed application for a D-1 and D-2 permit with the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

A D-1 permit would allow the sale of 3.2 per cent beer for on-premises consumption and carry-out. The D-2 permit would allow the sale of high-powered beer and wine for on-premises consumption and carry-out.

The application, filed June 11, is currently being investigated by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control. Usual time for processing is about 45 days.

Persons objecting to the issuance of the permits should contact the department at 2323 W. Fifth Ave., Columbus, 43204.

Attic Wall Holds Art Treasures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Ohio State University can put together $8,000 to $9,000 for new attic walls, a Connecticut man will give his old ones to the university.

The university is considering the deal because it would be buying seven original and previously unknown sketches by the late humorist James Thurber, an OSU graduate. But Thurber studies Prof. Lewis Branscomb says his budget doesn't include appropriations for repairing attic walls.

The drawings were found in the green frame Sandy Hook, Conn., home of Allen A. Coster who wants to give the cartoons to an organization. Thurber lived in the house between 1931 and 1934 with his first wife, Althea, an OSU beauty queen in the 1920s.

Coster said he found the drawings a year and a half ago while exploring the wallpapered attic which served as Thurber's studio, where he is believed to have written "My Life and Hard Times" and "The Seal in the Bedroom."

Branscomb says he is sure the drawings are authentic because they show the simple style for which Thurber was famous. One depicts an aggressive looking woman shoving a flower at a reluctant, little man. The caption reads, "Rosemary—that's for Remembrance." Rosemary Thurber was the humorist's only child. She was born in the Connecticut house.

Branscomb's eagerness to win the walls for OSU should come soon because the Costers are retired and finding their house too big. They can't guarantee the next owner will be so determined the magazine-size pencil drawings go to an appropriate organization.

Probate Judge Speaks To Mental Health Group

Guy G. Cline, Judge, of Pickaway County Probate and Juvenile Courts was guest speaker for the Monday evening meeting of the Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., in the probate court room, court house.

Judge Cline, talked of the new commitment laws stressing the importance of promoting the human dignity and to protect the Constitutional rights of the mentally retarded person in Pickaway County; to encourage the development of the ability and potential of each mentally retarded person in the state to the fullest possible extent, no matter how severe his degree of disability; to promote the economic security, standard of living, and meaningful employment of the mentally retarded; to maximize the assimilation of mentally retarded persons into the ordinary life of the communities in which they live; to recognize the need of mentally retarded persons, whenever care in a residential facility is absolutely necessary, to live in surroundings and circumstances as close to normal as possible.

Cline said that the proceedings for the involuntary institutionalization of a person pursuant to sections 5123.71 to 5123.76 of the Revised Code shall be started by receiving a medical certificate certifying the client dangerous to himself or others and can be cured in the hospital or receive help and improvement while in the hospital. An affidavit is filed with the probate division of the court of common pleas of the county where the person has his residence, in the manner and form prescribed by the Mental Health and Mental Retardation Department.

Upon receipt of the affidavit the court is required to issue a temporary order of detention ordering any health, police officer or sheriff to take into custody and transport such person to any institution or may set the matter for further hearing. Any person who is involuntarily detained in an institution shall be informed that he may contact an attorney, a physician, or both. If he is indigent he may have a court appointed counsel and have independent evaluation at court expense; written notice of any hearing the court directs to the following; the respondent, the legal guardian, the spouse, the person filing affidavit, counsel, director of mental health and mental retardation. Hearing shall be within two days. Wherever possible the probable cause hearing shall be held before the respondent is taken into custody. Any person at any time during the 90 day period may apply for voluntary admission to an institution.

Leora Sayre and Ruth Flanders reported on their remembered patients at the Central Ohio Psychiatric Hospital (formerly Columbus State Hospital).

Pamphlets on mental illness may be obtained, upon request, from the Pickaway County Mental Health Association.

Leona Riegel, secretary of the association was program chairman for the evening. Other officers are Mary Ann Willoughby, president; Mary Mae Yates, treasurer; and Norma Toland, vice president.

Remodeling Set For State Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Still more remodeling is planned at the 142-year-old Ohio Penitentiary here as a new reception center already underway nears completion.

The new center, scheduled for occupancy July 12, will be housed in the five east cellblocks on which refurbishing began in March, said Robert Baker, information officer for the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

He said the latest decision to modernize the west side of the old structure was made because the department already had a work gang in the facility and felt it expedient to use the crew on the west while it is in Columbus.

The reception center scheduled to open next month will replace a similar facility for male inmates at the Chillicothe Correctional Institute. The average inmate population of 550 in Chillicothe will be added to the 250-inmate hospital now in the Columbus facility bringing the total population to about 800.

But, Baker said, when all remodeling is complete the facility could house about 1,700 prisoners, although he says there are no plans now to use the facility for inmates other than hospital patients and those being processed through reception.

Stout Heads Democratic Committee

William A. Stout was elected president of the Pickaway County Democratic Central Committee and Thomas F. Tootle was appointed president of the Executive Committee at a reorganizational meeting of county Democrats Tuesday night.

Stout, former president of the Executive Committee, replaces Hewitt Cromley. Parties reorganize every two years following elections in the primary of committee members.

John R. Adkins was elected vice president of the central committee and Betty McGinnis was elected secretary.

Mildred Davis was appointed first vice president of the Executive Committee, Robert Parker was appointed second vice president, Betty McGinnis was appointed secretary, and Martha Purcell was appointed treasurer.

Deputies Join Cattle Drive

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies joined in a cattle drive Tuesday afternoon, herding 80 head of cattle from a corn field.

The field, owned by Arnold Toole, 27864 Pickaway-Saltcreek Road, sustained excessive damage from the cattle.

Toole, his neighbors, and Deputies Jim Fite and Lowell Ferguson herded the cattle out of the field, onto the Pickaway Saltcreek Road, and up Route 159 into a pasture.

The animals are owned by Allen Utzinger, Groveport.

Glenn Favored As Carter's VP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste, who remained uncommitted throughout the Democratic primary campaign, is now supporting Sen. John Glenn for vice president on a ticket headed by Jimmy Carter.

"I think John Glenn would be the strongest possible running mate for Carter," Celeste said in an interview Tuesday.

Celeste, a potential gubernatorial candidate in 1978 and a leading light in the Ohio Democratic party, held to a doggedly neutral stance during the presidential primary season, right up to the June 8 Ohio election.

But after Carter's impressive victory in Pennsylvania on April 27, Celeste said he privately endorsed the former Georgia governor and became ever more enthusiastic about his candidacy as the primary campaign progressed.

He warmly introduced Carter at a large Statehouse rally here the week before the primary but claimed he would have done the same for the other candidates.

The 38-year-old Cleveland native thinks Carter was able to tap the populist nerve that Fred Harris attempted unsuccessfully to locate in his illfated campaign. "He was able to build up a trust in people," Celeste said of the Carter appeal.

Although he is generally regarded as more liberal than Carter or Glenn, the lieutenant governor insists he has no ideological qualms about supporting such a ticket.

"I don't think you can categorize

Carter as left or right," he said, "but the way he responds to issues, it's unfair to say he is a conservative." Celeste stayed neutral during the campaign, he said, out of deference to associates who worked for various candidates.

So guarded was he in his position that his own brother, who managed Carter's Ohio effort, was not aware of his private support for Carter.

"He never told me," Ted Celeste said. "I had in the back of my mind all along that I could get him to change his mind and come around to Carter."

He had also hoped to make use of the lieutenant governor's vaunted political organization, which has been held together in preparation for 1978.

"Celeste decided to support Glenn for vice president—but not to actively promote his candidacy—at a strategy session last week in his office with an inner circle of personal friends, past political advisors, and current staffers.

"I think my effort to pressure the Carter camp in support of one man would be counter-productive," Celeste said. "They have their list and in the end one man will make the decision."

But he had informed Glenn personally that he is backing him, Celeste said, and will make his views known to Carter, if asked.

Few Diet Staples

Of the hundreds of varieties of foodstuffs produced in the world, fewer than a dozen support the great preponderance of the population. There are many areas, particularly in Asia, Africa and South America, in which the bulk of the diet is provided by one or two indigenous crops, obviating the necessity of important foods except for the palates of the wealthier.

Almost every nationality differs in its culinary taste and skills, but the basic ingredients almost always come from the same storehouse. Rice and wheat are the two most universal crops. It is difficult to find any segment of the earth in which people do not rely on one or the other.

Corn and potatoes are next in line of popularity, although more limited in availability than wheat or rice. Potatoes are not as easily exported as the grains because of their bulk and temperature requirements, and thus are largely limited to consumption on native soil. Much corn is transformed into meat.

Advanced agricultural countries like the United States and Canada enjoy greater variety. Other popular staples are sugar, cassava, coconut, banana, rye, beans and peas. Tapioca is derived from cassava.

North Americans also enjoy many rarer and tantalizing delicacies. But even here wheat is the primary source of subsistence, just as combined with rice it feeds three-fourths of the rest of the world.

Well Paid Servants

By JIM BISHOP

Your congressman is your public servant. In the past few years, he has raised his salary 80 per cent. He also voted for an automatic cost-of-living raise. Of the 435 congressmen, less than 50 are present when the chaplain intones his one-minute prayer. The preacher gets $19,768 a year.

If your congressman can last 30 years, he could retire on a pension three-times greater than the full salary he earned as a freshman. He pays himself $44,625, and averages a staff of 16, including a press agent. He quintupled the number of government-paid trips home.

Should he die in office, the Congress will vote his widow one year's salary. He qualifies automatically for an insurance policy of $45,000. For this he pays $26.82 a month.

The Navy staffs a free medical clinic for him. Your congressman is allowed $7,500 a year for office supplies. What he doesn't spend, he pockets. Last year Senator John Tunney used his frank to send out 2 million pieces of mail.

Your servant is paid 12 cents a mile to return home 26 times each year. If he lives in Arlington, Virginia, he can elect to accept a lump sum of $4,500. If home is the State of Washington, the mileage amounts to a fortune.

At recess, he can go anywhere in the world on "official travel." If he takes his wife, she goes cut-rate. Congressmen seldom make an "official" trip to a country which is starving. Abroad, U.S. Embassy staffs dance attendance on the congressman.

He works long hours. Most of these are spent in his plush office. The congressman's major effort is to get re-elected. Most of his energies are devoted to sending one-minute TV tapes back home, or mailing out position papers which will be popular with his constituents, or little radio messages.

Dan Rappoport covered congress for UPI over a decade. In his book, "Inside the House," he states that congressmen pay $2 for a haircut; senators pay nothing. The lower house feels that it is getting a trimming.

The Congressman gets free plants for his office. He also has unlimited sick leave. Senator Karl Mundt had a long final illness and did not cast a vote for several years. He refused to resign and drew full pay.

The elected official averages 60 days in holiday breaks and vacation. The House employs 11,000 persons on its side of the Capitol. That great patriot, Wayne Hays, passed "Committee Order 1," which authorized all 435 congressmen to raise the number of offices back home from one to three.

No one knows the final cost of the Rayburn Office Building. The suites are plush. The parking under the building is arranged so that no congressman is more than a few steps from an elevator. When congressmen cross an intersection around the Capitol, the police change the light for them to green.

Sadly, most congressmen sit in their offices when debate is on. A bell tells them when roll call is imminent. If they do not know which bill is being considered, Chief Doorman Warren Jernigan intones the name of the bill's sponsor as the gentlemen hurry in. He also repeats a succinct summary of the bill in question.

The House has a huge gymnasium complete with swimming pool, handball courts and massagers. In the House restaurant, the headwaiter greets each member by name. Salesmen are not permitted in the three office buildings but lobbyists are.

Most members are back slappers. A congressman is conscious of the fact that he is one of 435 members. He must learn to get along. In cloakrooms, men who never drank sip bourbon. If a newspaper publishes a flattering article about a congressman, he asks another member to stand up and request that it be republished in the Congressional Record.

Committee chairmen manage to get government contractors to build plants and airstrips, tanks and ships in their home districts. Lyndon Johnson refused to okay NASA construction until Congress agreed to build the massive headquarters in Houston, Texas.

A congressman comes up for election every two years, which is why your servant must keep running for office. His investigative committees are good for television and newspapers, but their purpose is to enact corrective legislation.

The average member will not investigate the worst of his comrades, unless he is pushed...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street forever lives in the future, in much the same way as the dedicated horse player, because that is where possibility, chance, blind luck, hope, dame fortune and relatives reside.

There is little profit in looking back, which probably explains why the same errors are made over and over, and why myths persist year after year. Such as the sustained summer rally.

If you were to have questioned brokers last Thursday, when the Dow Jones industrial average pushed above 1000 points, the chances are that almost to a man they would have made reference to this alleged phenomenon.

Among other things, the prospect of a summer rally often brings excitement to a long, hot summer, when many investors are more concerned with having a good time right here and now in the present.

Nothing is better designed to shock an investor out of this lethargy than the fear that in relaxing at the beach he is cheating himself out of a stock market fortune. The summer is for investing, not for loafing!

That at least is the way a commission-hungry broker, without benefit of research, is inclined to view the summer. But is he right? Is there some particular magic at work in the summertime? It wouldn't seem so.

True, as at other times of the year, there are short bursts of activity and prices that might add a few percentage points to the averages, but there is a real question of whether these flurries qualify as "summer" rallies.

They occur during the hotweather months, to be sure, but similar activity can be witnessed in the wintertime too. Summer is a rather extended period; it isn't at all odd that sometime during the summer prices might rise.

The term "summer rally" however suggests something more extended than a week or so. Yale Hirsch, publisher of "The Stock Trader's Almanac," maintains that a review of statistics shows that "a clearly identifiable summer rally simply does not occur with any reasonable consistency."

But don't get discouraged. There is, he states, a statistical suggestion that one of those small surges could be just around the corner, perhaps even this week. A hair-splitter, Hirsch calls it the mid-year rally.

During the past 22 years, he states, there has been a gain in stock market averages between the tail end of June and the week after the Fourth of July.

Researching through the Standard & Poor's composite index, he found that the rally began two to eight trading days before July 4 and lasted into the week following the holiday, adding an average of 3 to 4 per cent to the index.

And now the bad news: Hirsch found that "after the mid-year rally, very little is left for the last two-thirds of July."

If it comes — and the statistics are mute on this point, telling us only that the rally has occurred in the past — you can be sure that it quickly will be labeled the "long-awaited summer rally."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, June 23rd, the 175th day of 1976. There are 191 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1683, William Penn signed a friendship treaty with Indians in the Pennsylvania region. The agreement was faithfully kept by both sides for more than 60 years.

On this date: In 1722, England's Queen Anne ordered the French people in Nova Scotia to take an oath of allegiance to her government within one year or leave.

In 1836, there was a surplus in the U.S. Treasury and the $28 million was divided among 26 states.

In 1967, President Lyndon Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin held a summit meeting in Glasboro, N.J.

Also in 1967, the Senate voted to censure Democratic Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut for allegedly using campaign funds for his personal benefit.

Ten years ago: Police used tear gas to rout civil rights campers in Canton, Miss.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon announced he would make the disputed Pentagon papers available to Congressional committees but with a top-secret label.

One year ago: The Supreme Court accepted the resignation of former President Richard Nixon as an attorney licensed to practice before the Court.

Today's birthdays: Former Secretary of State William Rogers is 63 years old. Movie and stage director and choreographer Bob Fosse is 49.

Thought for today: The best doctor in the world is the Veterinarian. He can't ask his patients what's the matter, he's just got to know — humorist Will Rogers, 1879-1935.

Bicentennial footnote: The Provincial conference of committees, meeting in Philadelphia, called for the election of deputies to a Provincial Convention on July 8th.

Mrs. K. J. penn.

Dear Mrs. J.: The letters TMJ stand for temporomandibular joint disease.

Your doctor was very astute to make this diagnosis. Far too often this condition is overlooked because radiating pain from the jaw may be misleading.

The temporomandibular joint is the hinge-like joint immediately in front of the ear. It is the joint that is affected by opening the mouth and chewing.

Dental disorders, missing teeth and, particularly, longstanding poor bite (occlusion) can affect the ligaments, the cartilages and the muscles that surround the jaw joint.

Dental surgeons specializing in temporomandibular joint disorders have many new mechanical techniques for determining the cause and establishing a form of treatment.

Adjustment of the bite, replacement of missing teeth, avoidance of grinding the teeth and special exercises can relieve the distress of the jaw joint problem.

In some cases, cortisone injected directly into the jaw joint may bring relief.

My wife, 48, had a varicose operation 15 years ago. Her left leg is fine, but the right leg has ugly protruding varicose veins that are painful. It seems that the doctor could not complete the surgery on the right leg because of a blood-clotting problem.

Are there any plastic vein replacements that could be used at this time?

Mr. J. E. K., Conn.

Dear Mr. K.: There are some Dacron substitutes that are used in vascular surgery.

Since the operation was performed 15 years ago and discontinued because of a clotting problem the vascular surgeon might now again attempt to "complete" the interrupted operation.

With the newer methods available for the control of clots in the vein the chances are great that the successful operation on her left leg might well be repeated on her right leg.

Extensive progress has been made in vascular surgery during the past 15 years. This may be a significant contribution to your wife's problem.

House Leaders Eye Panel Power Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders are moving to cut some of the powers of the House Administration Committee, the source of Rep. Wayne Hays' clout until he resigned as chairman in the wake of the payroll-sex scandal.

A team of three House Democrats headed by Rep. David Obey, D-Wis., is expected to recommend today that the House take back the power it turned over to Hays and the Administration panel in 1971 to increase member's staffs, travel money and other allowances.

Hays, a Democrat from Ohio, formally resigned as chairman of the Administration Committee on Monday and is expected to be replaced by Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey. Hays is on his Ohio farm recovering from an overdose of sleeping pills.

The recommendations of Obey's panel were to be made to the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee, a panel made up of the party's House leadership, which is expected to approve the proposals.

Speaker Carl Albert had appointed the team to devise ways of improving House payroll and accounting practices following allegations by Elizabeth Ray that Hays put her on his committee payroll at $14,000 a year to furnish him with sex. Hays admitted a relationship with Miss Ray but insisted she did committee work for her salary.

House Republicans have introduced a bill that also would strip the Administration Committee of the power to increase certain benefits bestowed on House members. GOP House leader John Rhodes said such control gave Hays a great amount of power because it made House members beholden to him for benefits.

One reason the House endowed Hays' committee with such power was that it permitted House members to get bigger allowances for staff, travel, stationery and other expenses without having to vote on them.

During the course of his chairmanship beginning in 1971, Hays and his committee increased House staff hiring allowances $238,584 a year from $204,720; staff sizes to 18 from 16; members' trips home to 26 from 18, plus six trips a year for member's staffs.

Hays' committee also increased the travel money that members can draw in cash in lieu of filing vouchers for each trip to a maximum of $2,250 a year from $1,125.

The full House is expected to act on accounting reforms early next week.

Rep. William Armstrong, R-Colo., announced that he will propose an amendment calling for a full audit of House expenditures by the General Accounting Office.

Blonde Escapes, Gorilla Dies For N.Y. Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — The 40-foot gorilla lay prone and bleeding, dead after a 110-story fall from the north tower of the World Trade Center.

But the beautiful blonde who had escaped from the monster's grasp was very much alive as a crowd of 5,000 men, women and children surged forward to get a look at the dead gorilla.

The ape was of Styrofoam, rubber and horsehair. The blood was Karo syrup mixed with vegetable coloring. Dawn, the monster's erstwhile captive, was really actress Jessica Lange.

But the crowd was a real New York crowd, lured by newspaper ads for extras — unpaid — to take part in the filming of Dino de Laurentiis' $22 million remake of the 1933 classic, "King Kong."

Even though unpaid and non-professional, the crowd had to do some acting — horror expressed at the falling gorilla.

The actual fall is being filmed in Hollywood with a mechanical monster, and the New York version of King Kong just lay there throughout the proceedings.

A spokesman for the movie company said the scene at the foot of the World Trade Center would be filmed again tonight and Wednesday night at a cost for the three shootings of about $250,000.

In the finished movie, it will be a five-minute scene at the end.

Volume VI No. 12 issue of the Lawton Community Schools newspaper holds a very special interest for the families of Lon Rigsby and Winfred Rigsby of our town because nearly half a page is devoted to their sister Ver Rigsby Hitchcock who is retiring as head cook at the school after 27 years association.

Supt. George Dannecker personally wrote high praise for her dedication to the job and her daily kindnesses to the students and other school employees. He points out that it takes a truly good cook to please so many "eaters" each day but it takes a smart lady to balance the food budget as well.

Among a number of other complimentary remarks he closes by stating how much they will all miss Ver. The Hitchcock family has visited here on occasion. Lawton is located near Kalamazoo, Mich. Mrs. Mike Brown of Circleville and Mrs. Arthur Founds of Ashville are sisters.

At long last here are the winners of the baby contest at the Deercreek Dam Days festival. Thanks to all you parents for waiting (some patiently, some not).

A hearty welcome to David William Gilmore who joined our world recently and has as his happy parents Bill and Norma Anderson Gilmore.

The same to Karen Sue Cook, the wee one, who is adding joy to the lives of Doug and Janie Cook and brother Steve. Karen was a birthday present for daddy Doug on June 3.

And Father's Day was quite special this year for Tom Cook, Jr. because he became a daddy for the very first time. He and wife (the former Jane Covault) are happy to add precious daughter Angela Marie to the family circle. Angela weighed in at 7-pounds 15-ounces at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Summer will bring first grandbabies to Juanita Hanson and the Don McDills since Rich and Christy Hanson Withers and Rick and Beverly McDill Hanley are anticipating. What a glorious welcome these two babies will receive just like the others already have. Family is very important to the folks in our community.

Well, what do you know, looks as though we may be Macon, Georgia and points south bound after all. Unless plans alter drastically we shall head in that direction around Tuesday noon. A letter from Macon says Grandma Smiley is not feeling too well.

Be with you again soon as I get back, the Lord willing. Take care.

Standard Oil Ups Gas Price

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) has posted a one-cent per gallon increase for all grades of gasoline sold at company-operated stations. The boost went into effect today.

Company officials attributed the hike to increases in crude oil and operating costs.

In no instance will the price of gas be higher than 59.9 cents per gallon for Octron and Cetron and 63.9 cents per gallon for Boron, officials said. But they added that actual pump prices may be lower because of different competitive conditions.

Sohio said the one-cent increase also applies to the maximum price in effect for the wholesale prices to dealers.

The wholesales also announced a one-half cent increase per gallon in the price of home heating oil and diesel fuel.

Meanwhile in Wilmington, Del., BP Oil Inc., a Sohio subsidiary, announced a one cent per gallon increase in the price of all grades of gasoline effective today. The increase applies to gas sold to jobbers, resellers, dealers and consumers, the company said.

First Revolutionary War Tomb Dedicated

BOLIVAR, Ohio (AP) — America's first tomb for an unknown soldier of the American Revolution will be dedicated Saturday.

The Ohio Historical Society and the state American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission conceived and financed the project, which will hold the remains of a young, unidentified soldier killed during the defense of Fort Laurens in 1779.

His body was found during an archeological dig at the Tuscarawas County site in 1973.

Fort Laurens was the only fort built in Ohio during the Revolution and was manned from 1778 to 1779.

The National Guard and The Old Guard of Washington, D.C. will conduct full military funeral services beginning 11 a.m. Ceremonies presenting posthumous awards to the unknown soldier are scheduled afterward.

Ohio Sens. John Glenn and Robert Taft Jr. have introduced a resolution which would provide national recognition of the shrine.

Mediator Has No Effect On Rubber Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — The chief federal mediator joined the United Rubber Workers and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. here Tuesday in hopes of fanning the listless talks between the two sides. But his presence has not yet had an effect.

Chief U.S. mediator James Searce joined the talks which are trying to settle a strike that has idled 60,000 URW workers since April 21.

Firestone has been picked as the target company for an industrywide settlement. Goodyear, Goodrich and Uniroyal tire and rubber companies also have been struck.

A fifth large firm, General Tire & Rubber Co., however, has escaped the strike and its URW members are working on a day-to-day basis until an agreement is reached.

A restraining court order issued Monday ended picketing at General's plant in Akron which police said had been picketed by persons not working at General.

In Cleveland, Jake Miller, a URW official in charge of talks with Firestone, said that "nothing has changed" on Firestone's last offer of an additional $1.15 an hour over three years.

The union says it wants a 42 per cent boost over its present wage and benefit package. Also at issue are terms of a cost-of-living adjustment provision.

Federal public land offices were opened in 1801 in Ohio at Steubenville, Marietta, Chillicothe and Cincinnati. Tracts as small as 160 acres might be purchased at the rate of $2 per acre with payments made at the rate of one-fourth annually.

Northeast Ohio To Become Boom Site?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Northeast Ohio could become the site of an industrial boom with a $100 million coal gasification plant in Warren and a U.S. Steel Corp. mill in Conneaut.

And Lorain, noting it already has a U.S. Steel mill that employs about 7,500, wants in on the developments.

Lorain's city council approved a resolution Monday night urging U.S. Steel to expand in Lorain. Officials said they have arranged a meeting with U.S. Steel executives for early July in Pittsburgh to "show them we love them and not hate them like many other cities do."

U.S. Steel hasn't revealed a site but has said it plans to build the largest and most modern plant in the world, a center that would produce four (m) million tons annually and has said that Conneaut was one of three locations being considered.

And Pittsburgh & Conneaut Dock Co., a U.S. Steel subsidiary, has begun major expansion of its coal storage works.

Conneaut Mayor Paul Williams, well aware of Pennsylvania's plans to help develop a plant for Volkswagen and of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes' offer of financial aid in unsuccessful efforts to win the VW plant for Ohio, says he thinks it's time Rhodes and others helped Conneaut push for the steel plant.

James A. Duerk, Ohio director of development, said Rhodes already has been in contact with U.S. Steel for months but added, "We just can't go into details."

Meanwhile, Consolidated Gas Supply Corp. and Dravo Corp., both of Pittsburgh, announced plans Monday to build a coal conversion plant in Warren.

And Republic Steel Corp. of Cleveland said it hopes to buy that plant's full production to fuel Republic Steel's operations in Warren.

Consolidated Gas Supply, a subsidiary of Consolidated Natural Gas Co. which also is the parent of Cleveland's East Ohio Gas Co., and Dravo, an engineering, construction and manufacturing company, formed IFG Co. as a joint venture to build the gas plant.

Miss Pamela S. Byroade Bride Of Stephen Kinser

MRS. STEPHEN C. KINSER

First United Methodist Church of Sylvania was the setting for the June 12 wedding of Miss Pamela S. Byroade and Mr. Stephen C. Kinser. The Rev. Elwood Rose officiated the double ring service for the daughter of Mrs. Walter Byroade, 5738 Dellbrook Drive, Sylvania, and the late Mr. Walter Byroade, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinser Jr., 326 E. Main St., Amanda, at 5:30 p.m.

Vases filled with red carnations, white pompons and greenery were placed at each side of the altar table, flanked with candelabra decorated with white bows. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

A half hour of music preceded the ceremony by Mrs. Diana Dague, organist, and Will Szabo, vocalist and guitarist, who featured the selection "Sunrise Sunset."

For her wedding, the bride selected a white silk organza and lace floor length gown. Five-finger lace enhanced the front of the bodice and edged the cuffs and high neckline. The empire waistline was encircled with wagonwheel eyelet lace. The A-line skirt, flowing gracefully into a chapel length train, was edged with chantilly lace. The Camelot headpiece and bouffant elbow length veil of bridal illusion were made by the bride's mother. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of white jaded orchids, miniature carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Gary (Debbie) Schaff, twin sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a long gown of white voile with red dots. The bodice featured puffed sleeves, square neckline and smocked front. The full skirt was lined with taffeta and she wore a white picture hat with red tulle forming a sash with streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tim (Cindy) Keesee, Lancaster, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Kim Morrison, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mrs. Ron (Mary) Tibbets, Toledo. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant. All the attendants carried nosegays of red miniature carnations, pompons and red star flowers.

Mr. Ron Steman of Columbus performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Mr. Will Szabo, Mr. Mike Gulvas and Mr. Denny Vorderburg, all of Toledo.

For the reception a buffet style dinner was held at the Joseph W. Diehn American Legion Hall in Sylvania. Music was provided by the Mark IV, five piece band. Mrs. Jeff (Mary) Essak, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of red carnations and white pompons. Grecian pillars separated the base and second layers with a lighted miniature fountain in the center. The base was surrounded with miniature red carnations, white pompons and greenery, and flanked with heart shaped cakes decorated with roses and the name of the bride on one and the bridegroom on the other.

The table for the wedding party was decorated with cut garden flowers and greenery down the center. Suspended from the ceiling was a large white wedding bell. Hostesses were Mrs. Jeff (Mary) Essak and Mrs. Jerry (Linda) Jensen, sisters of the bride from Toledo.

Following a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the couple resides at 3363 Mulberry, Toledo.

The bride is a graduate of Sylvania High School in 1970 and employed as a dental assistant by Dr. Donald McGowan in Toledo.

The bridegroom graduated from Amanda-Clearcreek High School in 1969 and Otterbein College in 1973. He is employed as an accountant by Landmark, Inc.

The rehearsal dinner, held the evening before the wedding, was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at

Scioto Chapel Women Use Theme Of Bicentennial

Scioto Chapel Women's Society met Thursday evening at the Parish House in Robtown with Mrs. Richard Hudson, Mrs. Raymond Beavers and Mrs. Charles Johnson as hostesses.

Mrs. Johnson opened the meeting with prayer and members sang "America" in keeping with the theme of the evening, "America The Great." Scripture was from Timothy, Chapter 1-8, followed by the reading "God Bless America."

Several members read sayings of famous men of the United States concerning the Bible. Taking part were Mrs. Russell Doddrow, Mrs. Helen Emerine, Mrs. Charles Huston, Mrs. Lee Downs and Mrs. Myron Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. E.R. Brooks read the poem, "I Am The United States." Mrs. Johnson closed the program with prayer. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Cecil Ward. A moment of silent prayer honored the memory of a deceased member. A plea was made for donors at the Blood Bank on June 25 at Zion United Methodist Church in Ashville. For appointments call Don Forquer.

The Church and Sunday School picnic will be held 1 p.m., June 27, at Deercreek Dam Park.

Mrs. Raymond Beavers read the minutes from the June meeting of 1919 and other meetings in that year.

The hostesses served refreshments to 16 members and three guests. The room and tables carried out the bicentennial theme of red, white and blue.

The next meeting will be held 7:30 p.m., July 8, at the Parish House with Mrs. C.W. Hedges, Mrs. Lee Downs and Miss Mary Ellen Downs as hostesses.

Bridge Club Plays Howell Game

Pat Turner directed the six table Howell game of Circleville Duplicate Bridge Club recently at the YMCA. Average score for the evening was 60 points.

Winners were 1. Dave and Audrey Johnson, 79 points; 2. Margaret Mattinson and Fran Turner, 71 points; 3. Faith Fraser and Larry Blum, 69 points, and tied for 4th place with 68 points were Mary Lou Mowery and Marquerite Weiler with Dieter Droste and Phyllis Johnson.

The next game will be 7 p.m., June 23. All summer games will be held in the YMCA gymnasium.

Clubs To Install New Officers

DeMolay and DeMolay Mothers' Clubs will hold installation of officers 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple.

Bill Knapp's Restaurant in Toledo, where the bride and groom first met.

The former Miss Byroade was honored with a pre-bridal shower given by Mrs. Tim Keesee, Mrs. Dale Metcalf and Mrs. Lloyd Davis in Lancaster. A bridal luncheon was hosted by Mrs. Jeff Essak, Mrs. Jerry Jensen and Mrs. Gary Schaaf in Toledo.

Little Fish

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are more than 100 members of the anchovy family, according to the National Geographic Society.

Most species of the small, silver-colored fishes, it says, are only about five inches long, though some grow to nearly twice that. They are found in most of the world's temperate and tropical seas.

The Pacific anchovy is found from Baja, Calif., to British Columbia. It is fished commercially but much of the catch is used for bait, particularly by tuna fishermen.

Beth Ann Skinner, Biff Bumgarner Become Engaged

BETH ANN SKINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Warden Skinner, Route 5, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beth Ann, to Biff Anthony Bumgarner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glenn Bumgarner, 1045 Lynwood Ave.

Miss Skinner, a 1976 graduate of Logan Elm High School, plans to attend Bowling Green University this fall.

Mr. Bumgarner, a 1976 graduate of Circleville High School, is currently employed by the Coca Cola Company and will attend Bowling Green University this fall.

A definite wedding date has not been set.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Five Points News

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

There were 24 present at the Five Points United Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship service followed with Rev. Zeller in the pulpit. Bible School began Tuesday morning at 9-11.

The United Methodist Social Hour Club will meet Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in the basement of the church for their regular meeting. A covered dish supper will precede the meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and Miss Laura Long will be hostesses. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and Miss Laura Long were Wednesday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Long in Ashville. The occasion celebrated Mr. and Mrs. Long's 48th wedding anniversary. The traditional ice cream and cake was enjoyed.

Mrs. Shirely Anderson, Mrs. Francis Furniss and Miss Laura Long were Friday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long of near Darbyville.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the families of Everett Dick and Mrs. Gladys Winfough. They were both prominent residents of our community and will be greatly missed.

Short-Term School Loans Being Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Rhodes Administration is pressing for passage of a bill that would authorize school districts to borrow on short term from private sources when their subsidies are delayed by the state.

Budget and Management Director William W. Wilkins said it is one of the tools needed to help Ohio meet "cash flow" problems during the fiscal year that begins July 1.

He explained that meeting the monthly bills of the state in some upcoming low revenue months probably will entail delays in school foundation payments to Ohio's more than 600 school districts.

As a result, he said, the bill by Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton, is needed to permit the schools to meet their obligations on time.

So far, the bill hasn't received a hearing in the Democrat controlled legislature, and the lawmakers are in recess, at least until a July 20 meeting which could be just a skeleton session.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, came out against the bill, saying it would cost the school districts "eight to 10 per cent interest" on the local loans.

However, Wilkins said he is willing to accept an amendment through which the state would have to reimburse the districts for their interest costs.

"I hope the bill will have a hearing if we are forced to hold up school foundation payments" as part of the state's current belt tightening efforts, he said.

Under the bill, the school districts would operate on the same July 1 to June 30 fiscal year as the state instead of their present calendar year basis, at least for the purposes of school foundation payments.

Rather than being limited to borrowing which must be paid back by the end of the calendar year, the loans wouldn't have to be repaid until the following June 30.

Richard G. Sheridan, chief fiscal adviser to majority Democrats in the legislature, said he would be concerned about giving such authority to at least some districts which "don't even know they are broke until they have to close down."

Wilkins said "there's a safeguard in there. The law would say they cannot borrow any more than is held up. So they couldn't use that to their advantage in getting money early and spending it against the future."

He also pointed out that the Food Costs Jump To 10-Month High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest increase in food costs in 10 months helped push consumer prices up six-tenths of a per cent during May, the biggest monthly jump since last November, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the May figures mean that inflation now is running at an annual rate of 7.2 per cent. The May performance compared with a consumer price increase of four-tenths of a per cent in April.

The 7.2 per cent inflation rate is higher than the 6 per cent rate which administration economists consider to be the underlying inflation rate in the economy. But the effect was to compensate for lower than normal increases in earlier months.

legislation never would be triggered unless in fact the school payments were withheld. "If that's never done, then there is no borrowing authority," he said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Teen Has Trouble Getting Summer Job

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy who was able to graduate from high school early because I passed the required tests. My problem is I need a job, but nobody will hire me because I have had no experience. Abby, how can a person get experience if nobody will hire him?

I am a responsible, hard-working boy who has never been in any kind of trouble, and I'm willing to do anything-run errands, wait on tables, sweep the floors, answer the phone, box groceries you name it. And if I don't know how to do it, I will learn.

So far I have applied for 22 jobs, but nothing has materialized.

Abby, how can a person without pull or connections get a job? I'm beginning to think it's impossible.

DISCOURAGED
DEAR DISCOURAGED: Go back to some of the places you've applied and tell them that you are honest, dependable, hard-working and so eager to prove your worth that you'll work for one week with no obligation on their part, and if they feel you don't qualify, they owe you nothing.

You may not be hired instantly, but I'll bet your name goes to the top of the list. Try it and let me know how you come out.

DEAR ABBY: Last weekend my husband's 24-year-old brother (I'll call him "Bill") came to town and stayed with us.

We planned to dine out with another couple and had engaged a 13-year-old neighbor girl to sit with our two little ones.

Bill was going out with his friends that evening and was waiting for us to finish dressing before he showered and shaved. He said he'd do that after we left and while the sitter was here.

I put my foot down and insisted that Bill shower quickly and leave the house with us. I didn't think it would be right for him to be alone in the house with a 13-year-old girl, even though he is a very nice young man. I knew that the sitter's mother would be horrified to learn that we left her daughter alone with a 24-year-old man, and I felt the girl herself might feel ill at ease.

Bill was furious with me, and my husband thought I was crazy to think there would be anything wrong in leaving Bill with the sitter. Was I wrong to feel that way?

TAKING NO CHANCES
DEAR TAKING: Yes. You owe Bill an apology.

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married in the fall and need your opinion on something that has caused considerable conversation in our family.

I have asked my favorite aunt to be one of my bridesmaids. She is 44 and very young-looking. She refused, saying, "Everyone would say I looked foolish with all those young girls, and it would spoil your day." (The other bridesmaids are from 17 to 26.)

I need your advice.

BALTIMORE BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: I can't possibly know what "everyone" would say, and neither can your aunt. She's obviously more concerned with her own image than eager to participate in your wedding. Don't coax her.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped self-addressed envelope, please.

Tribe Snaps Yankee Win String

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Who's on third?
Chris Chambliss.
Why?
Good question.
Who's on first?
Denny Doyle.
Oops ... wait a second.
He's on second.
Because Chambliss hugged the bag instead of high-tailing it for home, the New York Yankees came up on the short end of a 3-2 score against the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.
And because Doyle was hightailing it for second instead of hanging around first, the Boston Red Sox came out on the long end of a 6-5 score in a 15-inning marathon against the Baltimore Orioles.

In the rest of the American League, Oakland trimmed Texas 5-2, Chicago clubbed Kansas City 14-8, Detroit mauled Milwaukee 10-4 and Minnesota beat California 10-6.

In New York, it all came down to the bottom of the ninth. Cleveland was clinging to its 3-2 lead, but Chambliss led off the last of the ninth with a double to left-center field off Rick Waits. Reliever Dave LaRoche got Graig Nettles to fly to deep right — and Chambliss raced to third after the catch.

Up came Fran Healy, who sent a sharp grounder toward second base. "If Chambliss breaks right away, he scores easy," Indians' Manager Frank Robinson observed. But Chambliss stayed right where he was — and when second baseman Duane Kuiper came up with a diving stop on Healy's grounder and a throw to first for the out, Chambliss still was 90 feet from home. Then he and the rest of the Yanks went home losers when LaRoche got Willie Randolph on a routine fly ball to center.

Yankees Manager Billy Martin had a simple explanation for Chambliss' inertia. "The ball had to go through," he said. "We told him to wait if it didn't. If I use sandy Alomar as a pinch-runner, I have no one in the extra innings — and Chambliss is leading the team in RBIs."

Charlie Spike drove in two runs against loser Catfish Hunter, one of them with a homer, in the victory that snapped New York's winning streak at seven games and pulled the Indians back within seven games of the first-place Yanks in the AL East.

Red Sox 6, Orioles 5
In Baltimore, where a curfew was threatening to halt the Orioles-Red Sox game, Manager Darrell Johnson's strategy enabled Boston to beat the clock.

Fred Lynn on third base and Doyle on first, Bob Darwin — who had hit a first-inning grand-slam home run — was batting for the Red Sox. On a 2-2 pitch, Johnson sent Doyle flying to second.

Darwin sent a hot grounder up the middle. Shortstop Mark Belanger, who ranged deep behind second to stop Darwin's grounder, didn't see Doyle coming his way.

If he had, he'd have thrown to first for the third out. Instead, he flipped to second baseman Bobby Grich, trying for a forceout — but Doyle beat the ball to the bag.

Darwin just beat Grich's throw to first as Lynn crossed the plate.

A's 5, Rangers 2
"I guess you could compare us to the Chicago White Sox teams of the '60s," Manager Chuck Tanner said after Oakland beat Texas on eight hits—the most the A's have managed in the last 10 days. "We have speed and good pitching and we use it the best we can."

The A's stole four bases and got good pitching from Dick Bosman and Paul Lindblad to win their third game in the last four. One of their few big shots was Ken McMullen's homer.

White Sox 14, Royals 8
Darwin wasn't the only grand-slammer in the AL Tuesday night. Kevin Bell of the White Sox had one — and it hurt the Royals a lot more than Darwin's hurt the Orioles.

It was an inside-the-park shot that had Kansas City rookie left fielder Tom Poquette charging into the wall — literally. He crashed head-first into the fence and was carried unconscious from the field. The Rookie of the Year candidate with the .347 batting average suffered a fractured left cheekbone and will be out at least three weeks.

Chicago had two other homerun heroes in its 16-hit attack. Jim Spencer had a three-run shot in the first inning and Jorge Orta unloaded a two-run belt in the fourth.

Tigers 10, Brewers 4
The Tigers didn't have as many bombs as Chicago, but they had more bullets, getting 20 hits off five Milwaukee pitchers. Bill Freehan, Alex Johnson and Tom Verzyer had three apiece with Verzyer and Aurelio Rodriguez knocking in two runs apiece.

Hank Aaron hit his 752nd career home run, his seventh this year and fifth in his last eight games for Milwaukee.

Twins 10, Angels 6
Minnesota had its share of long and short-ball men. Rod Carew had a three-run homer and two singles, Butch Wynegar doubled and singled twice and Dan Ford hit a two-run homer and a single to lead the Twins' 17-hit barrage against the Angels.

Doctor Urges Long Olympic Trial Plan

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The United States should abandon the concept of a single, one-shot Olympic trial for its track and field athletes and begin picking the U.S. squad two years before the Olympics.

That's the idea being pushed by Dr. Leroy Walker, the head coach of the men's track team that will compete at Montreal starting July 17.

Walker long has advocated selecting the U.S. team well in advance, but the subject heated up again last Saturday when sprinter Steve Williams, one of the world's fastest men, was injured and failed to make the American team.

"Under my plan," said Walker, "if you have an injured athlete, you would do with him what any good coach would do — you'd rest him to make him whole. We would not have had to chance this situation with Williams being forced to run in the trials."

Asked if he'd like to select the entire team by committee rather than by a one-shot performance, Walker said, "No, I think the athletes should determine themselves, by their performances, who makes the team. If I were a commissioner, like in the National Football League, I'd already have the team chosen before I came out here."

The former head track coach at North Carolina Central University proposed a flexible program that might start two years before the Olympics.

"For example, in 1978, we might have a major track meet. Call it the USA National Championships, or something. Then the top eight runners and the top 12 field event finishers would be considered our national team on call.

"We could then follow them closely, help coach them and if the President's Commission on Olympic sports recommends subsidies for these people, as I think they will, then there will be a recognizable group of athletes who would be eligible for the subsidies."

He said he would not eliminate the final Olympic Trials altogether. "There should be a trials setup, but it should have some flexibility built into it," he said.

Williams, heavily favored to make the team, has asked — through his coach, Brooks Johnson — to be considered for a spot on the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

"Yes, I would say that if he was completely healthy he would be a fantastic anchor man," Walker said. "You'd be hard-pressed to find anyone in the world better than he is on the anchor of a relay, when he gets that 20 meters of acceleration ..."

However, Walker said present rules do not permit him to put Williams or anyone else on a relay team unless he or she already is a member of the squad in at least one event.

Crusaders Shun Cold, Move To Balmy Florida

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The struggling World Hockey Association, which had two teams in the icy cold, hockeyconscious North fold the past winter, apparently will try a franchise in balmy South Florida this year.

"The (Cleveland Crusaders) club's here, all the approvals have been given," promoter Bill Putnam said Tuesday.

Crusaders attorney Bingham W. Zellmer confirmed in Cleveland that WHA approval for the franchise transfer was obtained last Friday and Putnam's group has been given an option to buy the team.

The 12-team league, competing against the established National Hockey League, saw franchises fail in St. Paul, Minn., and Denver, Colo.-Ot-tawa, this past year.

The Crusaders were experiencing financial difficulties in the Richfield Coliseum, near Cleveland. The NHL reportedly has been interested in moving into Richfield if the Crusaders moved out.

Putnam, president of Florida Pro Sports, Inc., said the Crusaders will play their 40 home games next season at the Hollywood Sportatorium, recently renovated to 15,000 seating capacity.

Top Cage Teams To Gather In Cincy
CINCINNATI (AP) — Top amateur basketball teams will gather here this weekend for the 1976 National Amateur Athletic Union Bicentennial Youth Basketball Tournament.

The three-day tournament which begins Friday will be conducted in international style with twelve teams divided into four groups of three for roundrobin elimination.

Participating in the tournament are teams from Cincinnati, Texas, Florida, Las Vegas, New Orleans, Detroit, New York City, Indianapolis, Chicago, New Jersey, Washington D.C. and Seattle.

HOME RUN HITTER — Philadelphia Phillies infielder Mike Schmidt has won two consecutive home run titles and has a good start on the third as the 1976 season rolls along.

Live Bait Good On Hot Days

By JIM DAUBEL
For The Associated Press

Purists would sneer at the thought, but if there is a foolproof fishing bait, it is alive, whatever it is.

Live bait is especially good on summer's hottest, muggiest days when even the fish are moved to ride out the sweltering heat by doing little or nothing about anything, including lunch and dinner.

Traditional favorite creepy crawlies are nightcrawlers, minnows, crayfish, red worms, grubs, grasshoppers, maggots and frogs plus a few exotics such as salamanders and hellgrammites.

All these baits are found in Ohio but the first three are by far the most popular, both because they are widely available commercially and because they are effective in taking many species of gamefish.

Aside from understanding the habits and habitat of fish you pursue, the key to success in fishing live bait is knowing the proper techniques for offering choice morsels to your quarry.

Panfish, for example, are suckers for small minnows. Largemouth bass go for minnows, nightcrawlers and crayfish with the latter appealing especially to smallmouth bass.

When fishing with a bobber, use light line; the lighter the better. Four-pound test monofilament is ideal for panfish; six-pound for bass in open water, and eight or 10-pound test for bass in moderate cover.

Use a light bobber also. I prefer round cork floats just large enough to keep the bait suspended yet allowing it the freedom to swim about naturally. A small splitshot sinker is adequate to hold the minnow down.

Keep the bait alive and lively, beginning at the bait shop. Minnow water should be changed often. Keeping the water cool also helps prolong minnow life. Nightcrawlers should be kept cool in moist bedding or in shredded newspaper. Crayfish are hardy but they need cool, not cold, temperatures.

Do not pierce vital organs when putting live bait on the hook. For bobber fishing, run the point of the hook through the minnow's back muscle behind the dorsal fin. To rig a minnow for cast and retrieve along the bottom, hook it through the lips.

Crayfish stay lively when impaled through the tail and worms remain wiggle longer if you hook them through the heavier end away from the wide band that encircles their body.

The whole idea in live bait fishing is to present the bait as naturally as possible. No artificial lure can compete with natural food.

Computer Right In Wimbledon Action

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Can a computer really predict who is going to win Wimbledon, the most prestigious tennis tournament in the world?

Arthur Ashe, the defending champion and No. 1 seed, says the talent of the 128 players who began fighting for the men's singles title is evenly divided and almost any player can beat any other player at any time.

But after the first two days' play in this year's $280,000 Wimbledon championships, all 16 of the men's seeds were safely through the first round and those who played second round matches also were winners.

It was different last year when the Wimbledon computer rankings went awry. Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., lost in the first round, as did seeded United States contender Vitas Gerulaitis of New York. Those upsets were followed in round two by shocking defeats for Ilie Nastase of Romania, Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, and the seeded Australian, John Alexander.

In contrast, this year's seeds have had 20 matches so far, won them all, and dropped a total of only six sets.

All eight of the women's seeds also have played and won their first-round matches, losing only one set.

The consistency of the seeded players is all the more surprising since Wimbledon's grass courts are somewhat of a novelty for top class stars these days.

With World Team Tennis attracting more of the top players onto synthetic surfaces, and the major European titles being played on clay, the fast and sometimes slippery surface of grass requires a different technique.

Adriano Panatta of Italy, No. 5 seed here after his triumphs at the recent French and Italian championships on clay, said Tuesday following his secondround victory, "For a grass court tournament, I think I'm seeded too high. It is almost impossible for any player to win the Italian and French, and then adapt to the different surface and win Wimbledon, too."

Ashe, 32, from Miami, Fla., struggled against Australian Allan Stone in his second-round clash, before winning 7-5, 8-9, 9-7, 7-5.

Meanwhile, Jimmy Connors, Bjorn Borg and Nastase, the other top seeds, raced to easy victories in their quest to win the title.

Among the women, No. 1 seed Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and No. 2 seed Evonne Goolagong of Australia, breezed through first-round matches, looking as if the Wimbledon computer was right in picking them as likely finalists at the end of next week.

Said Miss Goolagong: "I've been playing really well all year, particularly in America. I reached the finals of the 10 tournaments I played and won, I think, seven. So I'm really pleased how consistently I've been playing."

Galaway Babe Comes From Sixth To Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Galaway Babe came from sixth in the stretch to win the featured eighth race at Scioto Downs on Tuesday by a half length.

The winner paid $21.80, $6 and $3.60. Reeds Pence placed for $4.20 and $3.60, while Easy Guy showed for $3.20.

Time in the one mile pace was 2:07 flat.

Small-Town Mayor Gives Advice To Georgia Village

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The mayor of this tiny Texas town has some advice for the folks in Plains, Ga., home of Democratic presidential hopeful Jimmy Carter.

Relax.

The word is from George Byars, who for the past 28 years has been mayor of the birthplace of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A 27-member delegation from Plains and nearby Americus will arrive here June 30 to learn how residents of a sleepy farming community handled the fuss and furor of having the president of the United States for a neighbor.

Byars said the people of Plains are wise to start planning for a flood of tourists, but he added, "As far as the city getting a big boom, we didn't."

Visitors to Johnson City "just keep increasing. We have as many as 2,000 on a weekend," the mayor said. The town's population is 767.

In Plains, in the peanut farming area where Carter grew up and still lives, there are 683 residents, a gas station, a bank and the Jimmy Carter for President headquarters. There are no motels, restaurants, car rental agencies or other tourist facilities.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see a new motel," said Jimmy Grubbs, president of the Americus-Sumter Chamber of Commerce and organizer of the Johnson City trip.

But Grubbs said that motel probably would be built in Americus, 10 miles from Plains, with a population of 28,000. Grubbs said Americus would probably be the center of growth arising from a Carter presidency.

He could be right. Other than one new motel, Johnson City didn't mushroom with facilities for reporters, government officials and visiting dignitaries. The overflow was handled by Austin, Texas' capital.

Grubbs said the businessmen of Plains are eager to foster legitimate businesses to serve tourists and pump up the local economy.

But at the same time, he said, the trip here is partly intended as "a fact-finding mission so we can know how to eliminate the fast-buck operators."

In Plains, some investors are selling one-inch square plots of land for $5. At that rate, an acre of peanut land would

Rare Leopards In Good Health

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two rare persian leopard cubs are reported in good condition at the Cincinnati Zoo where they were born last weekend.

sell for $32 million. Carter has called the promotion "a misleading scheme designed to bilk the public."

Byars said Johnson City wasn't spoiled with scheming salesmen attempting to turn a quick profit.

"They never did get very far," said the mayor.

The parents of the two cubs are the only breeding pair of Persian leopards in the United States, according to zoo authorities. There are only about 46 Persian leopards in zoos throughout the world.

The Persian leopard is a rare subspecies, native to the northern mountain regions of the areas formerly known as Persia and now contained in Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan and Russia.

CHICKEN SALAD

Cooked chicken is the beginning for many tasty dishes. The already economical chicken becomes even a better buy when it's used in recipes calling for cooked chicken.

A stewing chicken provides plenty of tender meat for dishes with cooked chicken. Simmer the stewing chicken in three cups of water with 2½ teaspoons of salt, two bay leaves, several leafy celery tops and one onion for two hours. Remove from the heat and strain the broth. Refrigerate the broth and the chicken immediately. When the chicken is cool, the meat can be removed from the bones.

Cooked diced chicken is used in this summer rice salad.

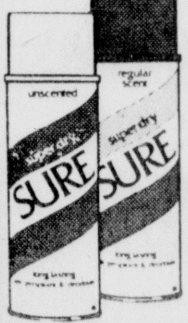

CHICKEN, CHEESE AND RICE SALAD

1 Cup Regular Rice	½ Cup Sliced Pimento Olives
1 Cup Thousand Island Dressing	Crisp Salad Greens
2 Cups Celery, Sliced	2 Cups Diced Cooked Chicken
8 Green Onions, Sliced	Cheddar Cheese Strips
¼ Tsp. Salt	Hard Cooked Egg Wedges

Cook rice according to package directions. Chill. Combine rice, dressing, celery, green onions, chicken and salt. Chill well. Stir in olives just before serving. Serve on salad greens such as endive, bibb lettuce or fresh spinach. Top with cheese strips and egg wedges. This recipe makes six servings.

Grangers Win District Talent Contest

Entries from Saltcreek Valley Grange received first places in the District Talent Contest held last evening at the Pleasantville Grange Hall in Fairfield County.

The contest was conducted by the Ohio State Grange Lecturer, Bernice Arter, for grange members in eleven counties in the area. Winners in each of the divisions will compete at the Ohio State Fair in August, and winners selected there will perform at the Ohio State Grange Convention in October.

Randy Wolfe received first place in the Piano Solo division and with Keith Ashley, received first place in the Piano Duet.

Paul Dunkel received first place in the reading category with "The Ladies' Music Club." Dunkel and Wolfe also received first place in the vocal duet division.

A quartet composed of Shirley, Neil and Randy Wolfe and Paul Dunkel were winners in that section of the contest singing "Tenting Tonight" and "Just A Closer Walk With Thee." Serving as the accompanist was Mrs. Patricia Bethers of Star Grange.

Other grangers from Pickaway County attending the contest were: Barbara McKenzie, Joan Dawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hammel.

Bromfield Home To Become Ohio Park

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The home of late author-conservationist Louis Bromfield will become a state park at a future date.

The 686-acre Malabar Farm has been in commercial use, but state Natural Resources Director Robert W. Teater said plans are complete for making the homestead "an interpretive educational center that should project the literary legacy of Bromfield and the philosophies he had toward nature."

Teater announced the conversion plans at a meeting Monday at Mohican State Park. He said an additional 242 acres will be bought, the dairy herd now on the land will be reduced, hiking and camping facilities will be added, a children's farm animal area will be built and commercial farming in competition with neighbors will be ended.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller returned home Thursday after spending a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller at their home in Dayton. Mrs. Miller is convalescing from recent surgery.

To celebrate their wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker Jr. were entertained at dinner Saturday night by their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Parker, Mr. and Mrs. William Parker and children, Tim and Sharon, Joe Parker. Their son Robert and his wife had previous commitments and were unable to join their family. Also present were Mr. Parker's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Patterson Jr.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Parker and son Joe had dinner with her father, Kelson Bower, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bower, Beth and Mark and Miss Debbie Harber, at a local restaurant.

The Rev. and Mrs. Pat Drewry and children moved this week from Hallsville to New Hope. He was pastor of the Hallsville United Brethren Church and was transferred to the Eaton charge.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Roll were Mr. and Mrs.

John McCallister of Groveport.

The Fred B. Orr family celebrated Mrs. Orr's birthday and Father's Day, last Sunday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Orr and children, Jon, Shelley and Danny, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn Orr, David, Cathy, Becky and Kevin, Route 1, Chillicothe; Mrs. Lisa Reisinger and Brett, Miss Jan Reisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reisinger and Dough Ramsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch Gillette of Ft. Lauderdale were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson and Andy. Also spending the week with her grandparents was little Stacie Lee Hall of Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard and his mother, Mrs. Trim Carroll visited Mr. Carroll in a Newark Nursing Home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Sherman Edler and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Phillips were visiting the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Noland in Franklin, Tenn. several days last week. One night they attended the out-door drama, "The Stephen Foster Story" in Bardstown, Kentucky.

Father's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Lauerman were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lauerman and children, Shawn and Eric and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson and Andy.

Mrs. Mary Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Harper and family were Father's Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Seymour.

Mrs. Larry Lauerman and children, Shawn and Eric and her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Cavinee of Laurelville have returned from a vacation in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Man Injured In Accident

William E. Strawser, 24, 434 John St., was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for head injuries following a single-car accident 12:34 a.m. Wednesday.

Circleville Police Ptl. Jim Ford said Strawser was driving east on Ohio St. when he lost control of his car and drove into a ditch on the south side of the road in front of the General Electric Co. Circleville Lamp Plant.

Strawser was taken to the hospital by the Circleville Emergency Medical Team.

OSP
 Thomas Van Kirk, 36, Columbus, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Darbyville Council Ousts Member

A member of the all-woman Darbyville Village Council has been ousted by her peers.

The unanimous ouster vote was reached at the regular June 7 meeting of council, according to Mayor Marietta Kneec, who would not release the name of the councilmember.

Mayor Kneec said the woman missed two consecutive council meetings.

Council will meet July 12 in regular session and will probably pick a successor.

In other business, council failed to come to an agreement with a company over alley repairs in the village.

Plans for the village sequen-tennial celebration were discussed. The Crusaders Quartet will perform 7:30 p.m. June 26 at the Darbyville Community Church, and a bake sale will be held on the church lawn.

L.A. Slowly Sinks In West

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers are slowly sinking in the National League West, torpedoed by another June swoon.

"We're not trying to make everybody look like Cy Young or Grover Cleveland Alexander, but that's what we're doing," said Sutton after the Cincinnati Reds swept a two-game series Tuesday night with back to-back 4-hitters to drop the Dodgers into third, 5½ games behind.

The Reds 6-0 victory and Randy

Jones' 13th victory put San Diego in second place.

It capped another nightmarish June for the Dodgers.

A year ago they entered June leading Cincinnati by a game and a half. A month later they trailed by eight.

"If they don't close the season next week, we'll be okay," said Manager Walter Alston, trying to find some humor in the midst of a four-game losing streak.

Cincinnati's Fred Norman, squeezed out of the rotation earlier this month, made a bid to reclaim a starting spot with his first shutout since April 18.

The 33-year-old lefthander ran his lifetime record at Riverfront Stadium to 28-6, but not without some shaky moments.

"When I warmed up I was skeptical. I didn't get it together until the last couple minutes. I didn't think I'd last the first inning," said Norman, who upped his record to 5-1.

Once he settled down, "it was like sitting in a rocking chair," said batterymate Johnny Bench, who broke out of an 0-for-16 slump with three hits to spark three uprisings. "All he threw were strikes."

Hot-hitting Doug Flynn drove in three runs as the Reds threaten a repeat of their runaway a year ago when they buried the Dodgers by 20 games in the most lopsided division race ever.

An injury siege—and a Cincinnati rampage—scuttled the Dodgers last year. Injuries are taking their toll again for the Dodgers.

Los Angeles has lost speedster Dave Lopes and RBI man Ron Cey to injuries recently.

Alston said the skid "is nothing that we can't overcome with some hitting. We haven't scored any runs in a week."

"You take Cey out of the lineup and it's hard to score runs," said Alston.

Reds Manager Sparky Anderson has his doubts about the Dodgers.

"Without Lopes and Cey, it's going to be tough on them," he said after the Reds notched their 15th victory in 21 games this month.

A revitalized screwball helped Norman master the Dodgers, who had held an 11-4 career edge over him. Norman wasn't so sure he would be around long enough to find his long lost screwball.

He got the feeling his days were numbered in Cincinnati after being relegated to the bullpen late last year and again this season.

"I had doubts whether I'd be here this year," said Norman.

A crowd of 39,000 saluted his efforts with a standing ovation in the eighth, but Norman didn't realize what was going on. "I thought somebody had just got a base hit. I didn't notice what was happening because I didn't want to lose the concentration I had going—that edge."

He drove in a run in the Reds' three-run fourth with a sacrifice fly. Sutton, 6-7, absorbed the loss. "People picking up the paper are going to say I got the heck kicked out of me, but that is pretty far from the truth."

The Reds open a two-game stand against sizzling Philadelphia tonight, with 6-foot-7 rookie Santo Alcala, 6-2, facing Steve Carlton, 6-3.

Records Falls In Olympic Trials

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Dave Roberts regained the world pole vault record with a mark of 18 feet 8¼ inches and promptly declared it "will take at least the same height or better to win" an Olympic gold medal.

But the 24-year-old medical student's record-shattering vault was only one of the highlights of a big day at the U.S. Olympic track and field trials Sunday.

—Marathon champion Frank Shorter, Craig Virgin and Garry Bjorklund finished 1-2-3 in a 10,000-meter final that produced four of the fastest times ever in the U.S.

—Millard Hampton, a powerfully built 19-year-old headed for UCLA next fall, won the 200-meter dash as the top three finishers ran the fastest races of their lives.

—Jane Frederick, a top prospect for a medal at Montreal, won the women's pentathlon and missed her American record by only 110 points.

—Madeline Manning Jackson, 28, earned a third trip to the Olympics, becoming the first American woman to run 800 meters in less than two minutes.

Roberts borrowed a pole from Arkansas State's Earl Bell, the man who took the world record from him in late May, after breaking his own pole on his first try at 18-8¼. He was given three attempts at that height, clearing it on the final try.

"I touched the bar going up, but I didn't touch it very hard," Roberts, a second-year student at the University of Florida Medical School, said of his record vault.

Bell loaned his pole to Roberts after missing twice at 18-8¼. He and Terry Porter, a 24-year-old Texan, both cleared 18-0¼ to grab the other Olympic berths.

Shorter, who won the 1972 Olympic gold medal in the marathon, will double again at Montreal. The 28-year-old lawyer, who runs for the Florida Track Club, won a tight, fourway race in the 10,000.

Shorter, fifth in the 10,000 at Munich, broke away from Virgin, of Illinois, with threefourths of a lap to go, winning in 27 minutes 55.45 seconds.

Shorter will be accompanied to Montreal by Virgin, who was second in 27:59.43, and Bjorklund of the Chicago Track Club.

Randy Jones Ties Mark, Then Fails

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Randy Jones would give his left arm to take one pitch back.

"As soon as I let it go, I knew it was a ball," he said.

With the slip of that pitch, the San Diego left-hander let a National League record fall out of his grasp — Christy Mathewson's monumental no-walk record established 63 years ago.

The free pass to Marc Hill leading off the eighth inning of Tuesday night's 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants stopped Jones' streak at 68 walkless innings.

A few moments before, he had pulled into a tie with the great Mathewson of the New York Giants by striking out Darrell Evans to close out the seventh inning. But the streak had been weighing heavily on his broad shoulders.

"I fought off the pressure for a long time but about the fifth inning it caught up with me," said Jones. "Subconsciously I'm sure it affected me. It's kind of disappointing to go that long and then end up walking the guy."

Jones, who had faced 296 batters before the pass to Hill, then lost all control by walking his second batter of the inning, Larry Herndon. Luckily it came after a double play had wiped out Hill and caused Jones no trouble.

scoring double in the sixth.

Walks by Ken Boswell and Greg Gross off Frank LaCorte, 0-1, got the Houston rally started in the eighth. Cesar Cedeno drove in Boswell with a single before Watson's double scored Gross and Cedeno. Watson later scored on Enos Cabell's hit.

Logan Elm Eged, 3-2

Logan Elm high school was hit with its first loss in the Mid State Summer Baseball League, a 3-2 extra inning defeat at the hands of Lancaster Gold.

The game went nine innings. In spite of the loss, the Braves still had the best record in the summer league with a 6-1 record.

Lynn Strehle was the losing pitcher in relief of starter Tim Justus. Justus whiffed 12 and did not give up a single walk in five innings. Strehle fanned four and walked two in four innings.

Chuck Cave hit a single and a double, driving in both Logan Elm runs in the tilt. Jerry Scanlan got the only other hit for L.E., a single.

Because of its record, Logan Elm was given the top seed in the Mid State Summer Baseball tournament scheduled to start Saturday and has a first round bye. The Braves will play 6 p.m. June 29 at Lancaster High School in the tournament.

Team H Sweeps PCC Men's Action

Team H. swept the first half of the Pickaway Country Club League schedule with a total of 124½ points.

The team also won the first night of the second series with 21 points. Members are Cordy Frazer, Bill Weidson, Carl Heffelfinger, Wendel Christon, Ed Wolfe, Bob Dahl, Art Holveck, Neal Hamilton, Walter Hall and Dick England.

Low gross was a 32 by Dick Wilcox. Low net went to Bill Thornton with a 28.

A couples tournament is planned at the club Sunday with tee times beginning at 2 p.m. Members wishing to play in the tournament are requested to make up their own foursomes.

The fourth of July activities at Pickaway Country Club include a buffet dinner to be served from 3 to 6 p.m. and a flag tournament.

Greenfield To Hold Softball Tournaments

A District 8 fast pitch and Industrial slow pitch softball tournament will be held July 17-18 and 24-25 at John Mitchell Park in Greenfield.

Drawings will be held 3 p.m. Sunday at Mead Park in Chillicothe. For additional information contact Bud Perrie, 513-981-2725.

Can-Am Set For Scioto Thursday

Nine nation-hopping pacing powerhouses move into Scioto Downs Thursday night for the sixth leg of the Canadian-American Series, shooting for the winner's share of the $12,500.

The impressive field of pacers includes Fulmini, the 4-year-old son of Meadow Skipper owned by Jack Stollar of Barrie, Ontario, Canada, showing three victories this year in 1:59 2-5 at Freehold Raceway in New Jersey, 1:58 1-5 at Vernon Downs, and last Saturday night zipped around the five-eights mile track at Garden City Raceway in Canada in 2:00.

With the top ten point earners going for the $50,000 purse in the final at Saratoga Raceway on August 20th, Fulmini currently stands second in the point battle with 138.

Standing fourth in the point standings is Bonbuck, the bay son of Romeo Hanover, owned by Marbuck Stables of Oakfield, New York. Trained and driven by Bob Fisher, Bonbuck won in 1:57 3-5 at Vernon Downs, then captured his division last Friday night in 2:02 2-5 at Garden City.

Scioto Downs' fans will not be seeing a mirage when Skipper Walt moves into Bud Jenne's starting gate. The son of Meadow Skipper, owned by Dr. & Mrs. George Smith of Byram, Conn., won the 3-year-old trotting division of the Challenge Stakes at Scioto last year before completing his season with a trotting mark of 2:00 1-5. Trained and driven by Roland Beaulieu, Skipper Walt was converted to the pacing gait this year, and on June 8th, scored in 1:59 1-5 at Brandywine Raceway which made him the world champion double-gaited stallion over a five-eights mile track.

George Sholty has the 4-year-old Bret Hanover Grand Bretagne, Bob Cole has Ozark Fredie, the 3-year-old Sampson Direct colt who finished a surprising third to Ambro Ranger last week, clocked in 1:59, Doug Arthur has Rodney Lobell, Ed Lohmeyer will go with Skipper Dexter, Dream Baron, and All Ohio complete the select Canadian-American pacing field.

Your
Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Perseverance, despite possible obstacles, will bring handsome rewards soon. Your business acumen should be highly stimulated.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A day in which your innate competence and good judgment will prove profitable. A fine period in which to initiate new methods, present unusual ideas.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): If you know you are on the right track, stay there. Do not go off on tangents without good reason. Curb your innate tendency toward restlessness.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): If well-planned in advance, you could now launch a new venture, but don't rush headlong into uncharted seas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Plan your schedule in orderly fashion, lest things trivial or witless interject their time-wasting tunes. A day for concentrating on essentials — and HUMOR!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Don't cross others without ample reason. It may turn out best if you wait a bit before making decisions, give time for added factors to appear.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Some opportunities indicated which could be overlooked if you are not on the beam, not using your mental capacities to their fullest. Keep aims and hopes high.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A day in which you could raise your score considerably. That is, if you make the best use of your numerous talents. Just one admonition: Avoid haste!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Curb tendencies to procrastinate. Handle all matters in the order of their importance. Evening hours excellent for social activities and romance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may encounter some difficult persons, even run into unexpected opposition. Remain tactful, tolerant and affable, and storms will blow over.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A period for reevaluation. Try to learn just where you stand in relation to other persons, especially competitors. Take nothing — and no one for granted.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some new insight could lead to higher achievement or bigger profits now. A fine Neptune aspect stimulates perceptiveness, intuition.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly gifted and intelligent individual, ambitious and conscientious, but not quite as practical as the majority of your fellow Cancerians. You could do well as a manager of large enterprises IF you are not too dictatorial with those under your supervision and IF you leave organization and detail to others. You are energetic and vigorous and have a natural gift for leadership; would make an outstanding politician, statesman or commander in the armed forces. You are conservative in your thinking, conventional in behavior; must learn, however, to curb tendencies toward overpossessiveness toward loved ones and jealousy. Cadets Watching What They Wear

WASHINGTON (AP) — A first-year cadet at West Point can be charged with an honor code violation if he buys a slice of pizza after hours while wearing an athletic sweatshirt, a congressman says.

On the other hand, if he's attired in his cadet uniform and buys the pizza after hours, he has simply broken a regulation punishable by a little extra drill.

Rep. Thomas Downey, D-N.Y., told the Senate Armed Services subcommittee Tuesday that the difference is that if a cadet dresses in the sweatshirt, without any insignia to identify him as a plebe, he is presumed to be attempting to disguise his identity. An "intent to deceive" is an honor code violation.

Downey provided this example of what he said was the unfairness of the West Point honor code system as the subcommittee held its second day of hearings on the codes of all of the service academies.

After hearing about West Point and the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, the panel today called Lt. Gen. James R. Allen, superintendent of the Air Force Academy to testify about his school's system.

The Air Force code is almost the same as at West Point, while the Naval Academy's is less strict, the subcommittee was told.

The subcommittee scheduled hearings into the honor code systems after charges that the West Point code is too strict. It calls for expulsion from the academy for seemingly minor transgressions.

During the recent West Point cheating scandal, some accused cadets claimed they were being unfairly singled out for having violated the code, to cover up the extent of the scandal.

The codes of all three academies prohibit lying, cheating and stealing. But at West Point and the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, toleration of the prohibited activities also is a violation.

Dead Private Called 'Momma's Boy' At Trial

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A Marine drill sergeant on trial in the fatal beating of Pvt. Lynn McClure says the victim was a "momma's boy" and a "malingerer" who tried to avoid combat training.

Testifying Tuesday on his own behalf, S.Sgt. Harold L. Bronson said the 20-year-old McClure was determined not to take part in the mock bayonet fights with padded 12-pound pugil sticks.

"He gave the impression of being a momma's boy, also of being a malingerer," said Bronson, a 10-year Marine veteran from Freeport, Fla. "He gave the impression that he'd never been in a fistfight."

Bronson is charged in the military proceedings with negligent homicide, violation of orders and dereliction of duty.

The defense was expected to rest its case today.

Contradicting defense as well as prosecution testimony, Bronson said McClure was never given any "free blows" during the bouts, nor was he ever knocked down or struck while on the ground. Free blows are punches left open to an opponent by the victim.

He also said that he thought McClure was faking injuries during the pugil-stick bouts last Dec. 6, including when he was struck in the head and fell into a convulsive coma.

"The blow he received, I didn't think was really that forceful," he said. "I thought he was faking and so did the other recruits."

But at one point, Bronson said he "wasn't 100 per cent sure" that McClure was not hurt and let him sit out a few bouts.

"I wanted to give him the benefit of the doubt," he said.

Under questioning by civilian defense lawyer Dan Hunter, Bronson said that hazing was allowed in the motivation platoon, a special training unit for castoff recruits. Until the unit was abolished with McClure's death, Bronson headed the platoon's "incubative section," a punishment unit for what Bronson called "marginal recruits."

Another DI who faces identical charges in McClure's death appeared Tuesday as a surprise defense witness. Sgt. Henry Aguilar, 23, of Hanford, Calif., said that he and Bronson were ordered to have McClure attacked repeatedly until he "showed motivation."

"He was to stay out there until he fought," said Aguilar, who said the order was issued by S.Sgt. Henry C. Wallraff, the third DI facing charges in McClure's death.

Sinatra To Wed Marx Sister

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A spokesman for Frank Sinatra says the singer has completed plans for his fourth wedding.

Sinatra will marry longtime companion Barbara Marx on Oct. 10 at the Beverly Hills home of actor Kirk Douglas, Lee Solters said Tuesday.

Sinatra was previously married to Nancy Barbato, Ava Gardner and Mia Farrow. The marriage will be the second for Mrs. Marx, the former wife of Zeppo Marx.

Freeman Gosden, the original "Amos" of the "Amos and Andy" radio show, will be Sinatra's best man, Solters said.

coordinator.

During the last six months the Ohio EPA has been trying to reach an agreement with Container Corporation of America for the renewal of a permit that expired last March.

A special consent agreement extends the present agreement one year or until agreement is reached on a suitable treatment procedure, the engineer said.

If an agreement is not reached in that time, the Ohio EPA will draw up the permit alone and a hearing will be held within 60 days. If the company does not accept the findings, then it can appeal to the Environmental Board of Review. The last resort is the courts, Elmaraghy said.

Elmaraghy noted that the Scioto River water quality around the Circleville area has improved greatly over the last few years. "We expect more improvement after implementations of new plans, issuance of permits for industrial waste water treatment, and the operation of the new city sewage treatment plant which is expected to start operating within the next year."

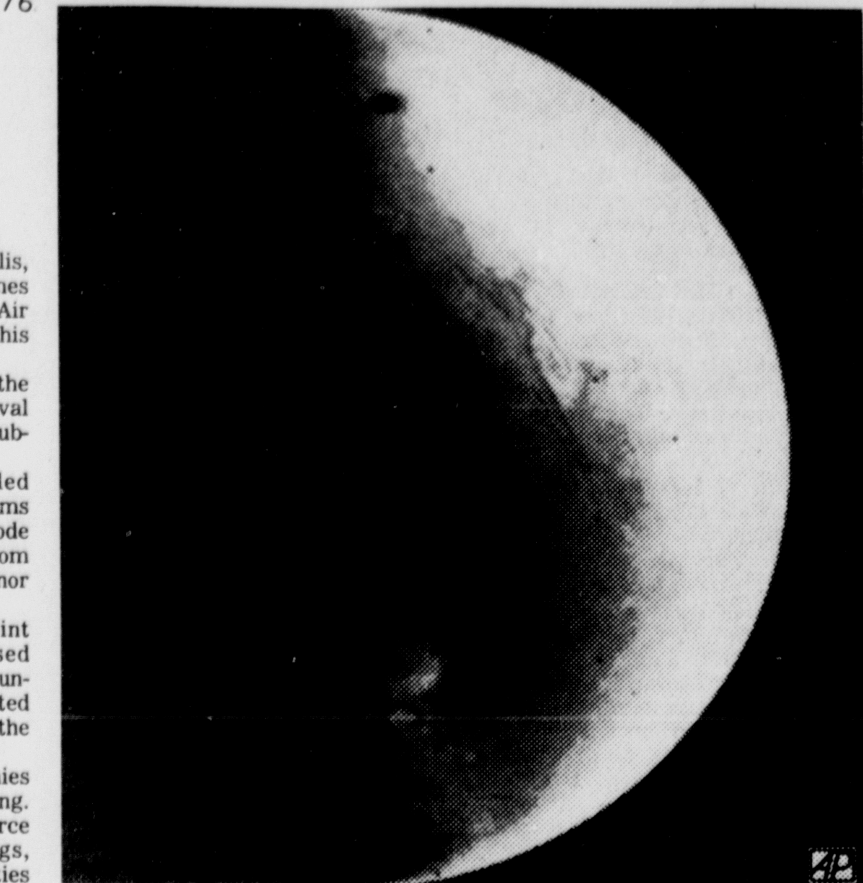

This plant will allow for new industry to locate in the Circleville area without degrading the water quality of the river.

Citizens have a chance to ask for an adjudication hearing if they do not like the permits that the Ohio EPA issues, according to Elmaraghy.

Each corporation submits monthly reports on the quality of waste water discharge from the plant. Elmaraghy said, "These are open to public inspection. We are happy to explain what is in the file."

Carter Says U.S. Should Abandon 'Lone Ranger' Act

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter said today the United States must abandon what he called its "Lone Ranger" foreign policy and organize free nations to share responsibility for "a just and stable world order."

Carter, the Democrats' probable nominee, called for collective action by the world's democracies in "creative alliances" to help stabilize world prices, ease military tensions and combat hunger and poverty.

Carter painted his concept of "creative alliances" in broad strokes, giving few specific details.

He said it is time to form a partnership between North America, Western Europe and Japan, and that there is a need for increased unity and consultation with Israel, Australia, New Zealand and other democratic societies.

Carter also said in a speech prepared for the Foreign Policy Association that:

—NATO forces must be reequipped with up-to-date weapons to balance modernized Warsaw Pact forces, but he said the costs must be shared by NATO partners, not borne solely by the United States, and that no effort should be spared to seek a balanced reduction of forces on both sides.

—Increased cooperation between East and West is desirable "but we will never seek accommodation at the expense of our own national interests or the interests of our allies."

—He is "particularly concerned" by the nation's "role as the world's leading arms salesman" and that the United States and its allies must work to reduce the flow of arms into developing nations.

—It will be possible to withdraw U.S. forces from South Korea over a time span to be determined after consultation with both South Korea and Japan, but the United States should make clear that "internal oppression" in South Korea is "repugnant to our people."

Ohio Village, Historical Center Plan July 4 Events

The Ohio Village and Ohio Historical Center complex, I-71 and 17th Ave. in Columbus, will be the statewide focal point for the July 4th celebrations of the Ohio Historical Society and the Ohio Bicentennial Commission.

The Ohio Village celebration will be similar to those that marked the American Centennial in 1876.

Special events will include a cannonball toss, great tug-of-war, pie eating contest, money hunts, foot races, and tomahawk throw. Many of the contests will offer silver dollars as prizes.

The Ohio Village Singers will give several concerts of period patriotic music in the town hall and the Ohio State University Alumni Marching Band will present a brass band concert on the village green in the early evening.

A village militia muster, reading of the Declaration of Independence and celebration of the nationwide ringing of bells will begin just before 2 p.m. A giant fireworks display will close the evening at 9 p.m.

The Ohio Village crafts demonstration program will be in full operation until 6:30 p.m. and food service will be available in the American House Hotel.

Ohio Village will be open Sunday, July 4, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and children 12 and under will be admitted free with their parents.

At the Ohio Historical Center, adjacent to the village, a major new exhibit on the American Centennial will be opened to the public at 1 p.m.

The display, funded with grants from the Battelle Foundation of Columbus and the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington, will present a variety of physical exhibits, including a full-size steam engine.

A six projector multi-media program will depict the American centennial celebration, in particular the national exposition in Philadelphia.

The Ohio Historical Center will be open to the public from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on July 4th. Admission to the Center is free.
